york college of pennsylvania

nineteen hundred seventy one it is not only an honor for us to be the first senior class of york college, but it is a greater honor to have the privilege of dedicating the 1971 horizon to our friend mr. alfred williams.

a native of wrightsville in york county, he graduated from wrightsville high school in 1925. for a time he taught at the druck valley school and then managed a local business for 20 years. he came to york junior college in 1959 as the business manager. in 1968 he assumed the position of director of financial-aid and in 1970 the title of placement officer was added. he has performed all of his responsibilities in a manner which has been a credit to himself and to the college.

mr. williams is an authority on early american history. in his spare time he works on a model train collection and does his own gardening in the warm weather. he likes his coffee black, he smokes a bit too much, and we're told he swears when angry.

he and his charming wife, helen, who must have been an inspiration to him, are planning to own and manage a motel upon his retirement. they have three children, all of whom have gone their separate ways, and several grandchildren for whom they often enjoy babysitting.

enough praise cannot be bestowed upon this wonderful man. so, it is with great admiration and respect that we make this dedication to mr. alfred l. williams, the big man on campus in 1971.

the soccer season was completed november 4 with a win against lincoln university 4-1, to give the team a 5-4-1 record. this season included a 12-1 victory over allentown college.

new to the team this year was coach jack klingaman who played varsity soccer for three years at lock haven and was captain of the team during his senior year. other new players were jerry may, chuck eckenroth, and carl sensenig.

highlights of the season was a 2-1 victory over lock haven state, former pennsylvania state college champions, rated as one of the top teams in the east; and jim may who was a candidate for all-american honors this year.

jim may was the leading scorer with 22 goals and 8 assists. jim's total number for 3 seasons was 53 goals. cliff karoullas was 2nd highest scorer with 4 goals. ronnie viehweger had 10 assists and 2 goals. george shorb set a new record, as goalie, with a total of 119 saves.

this 1970 squad was an exceptionally faithful, hard working group. it is the athletic directors feeling that the 1970 cross country schedule was the most ambitious schedule in york colleges history in terms of quality of completion met.

freshman bill fourham established a new college record on the york home course with a time of 24:58. he also established new course records at george mason college, at mt. st. mary's college, and at ship-pensburg state college.

cross-country running is an exceptionally demanding activity in terms of such personal qualities as perseverance and personal discipline. the coach would like to add a personal note of commendation to this 1970 squad for having earned respect and praise from every opponent encountered.

york entered its second season of competition as a four year college. the 1970-71 squad had its first seniors, in the school history, finishing a full collegiate career. the team faced many difficulties in gaining acceptance by the other four year college in the area. the spartans had to travel extensively and accept some disadvantages, however, the most obvious single limitation was lack of physical size. the yorkers were almost midgets in current day basketball circles.

despite the schedule and size limitations and injuries during the season, the spartans worked to within one game of a .500 season with a 12-13 record.

george harris served his third consecutive year as captain of the spartan squad, and distinguished himself among his teammates. he scored 959 points during his career and produced exceptional records for shooting accuracy. sam thuma joined harris in the role of york's first seniors, and also earned respect of all his associates. jim roth and bob klingseisen led york's scoring. klingseisen has scored 971 points in three seasons. he currently holds the all time scoring record at york. roth has scored 788 points in two seasons and led the 70-71 squad with 452 points.

the 1970-71 season again saw york fielding a seperate freshman squad which was again coached by student-coach tom rambeau, the freshman squad posted a 9-7 record. the team was led by larry ansted who had a 27 point per game average. the frosh squad had some excellent future varsity prospects but unfortunately faced the same size limitation which plagued the varsity squad.

the wrestling team ended the season with a 10-5 record for dual meets. coach steiler involved the team in three tournaments this year. the team took first place in the first invitational tournament held at lebanon valley; first place in the western maryland quadrangular meet in which randy hamme was the outstanding wrestler; and second place in the york y.m.c.a. tournament.

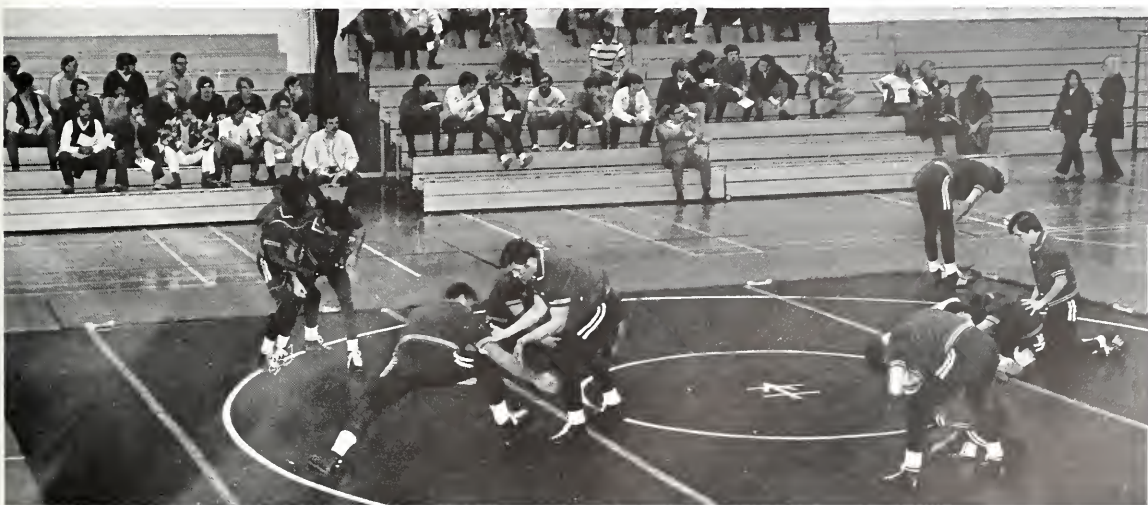

highlights of the season were when york took revenge for last year's meet against dickinson college by defeating them 38-0 in the first dual meet, and an upset victory over millersville 20-14.

a number of team members had a fine season as newcomers to the squad. randy hamme finished with a 11-2 record. gary papa and lynn hershey both compiled a 12-2 record and team captain pat mccaaffery had a 10-5 season. larry fanelli led the team with most pins, 8, and had the fastest pin of 21 seconds.

swimming involves total enthusiasm for the sport as well as total self-discipline of the individual. it involves good relationships between coach and swimmer as well as between team members. although most feel that swimming is totally an individual sport, success is achieved only through team effort.

next year will be the first year for the york college swimming team, which will spring from this year's swimming club. it is important to note that regardless of the club's limited schedule, the members have shown a great desire to compete. this desire is essential for the future success of next year's team.

york's 1971 team seemed to suffer an unusual succession of unfortunate breaks during the short college season. although the won-lost record was the lowest in the last decade (6-10), coach jaquet believes that the 1970-71 team was better than many recent teams which posted winning records. coach jaquet insists the team would have "come on strong" if it had played a longer season.

york baseball enjoys a reputation that caused each opponent to save its pitching ace for the spartans. york has intentionally scheduled the middle atlantic areas best small college teams. a final limitation is that virtually all opponents take southern conditioning trips and all play longer schedules.

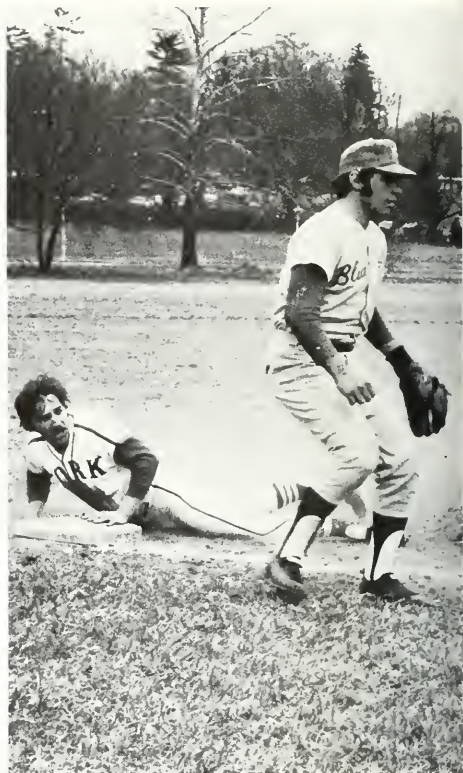

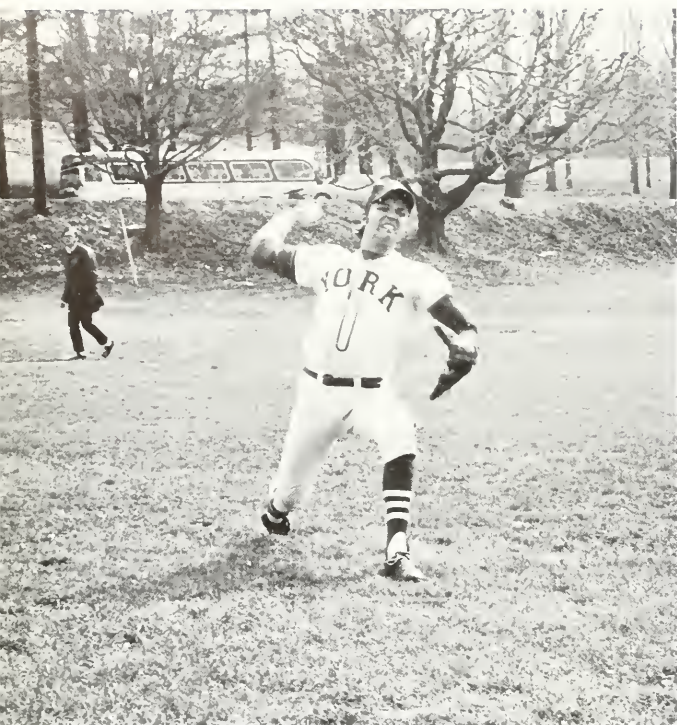

york's offensive efforts were paced by senior captains walt sechrist and mike reachard. this year reachard led the hitting with a .373 mark and sechrist was second with .340. jim may led the squad in runs batted in with 12. freshman dave cochran led in slugging percentage with .483 and 29 total bases. york's difficulties were reflected in pitching a 4.5 e.r.a. was the spartans best and york pitchers gave up 16 home runs and 11 triples.

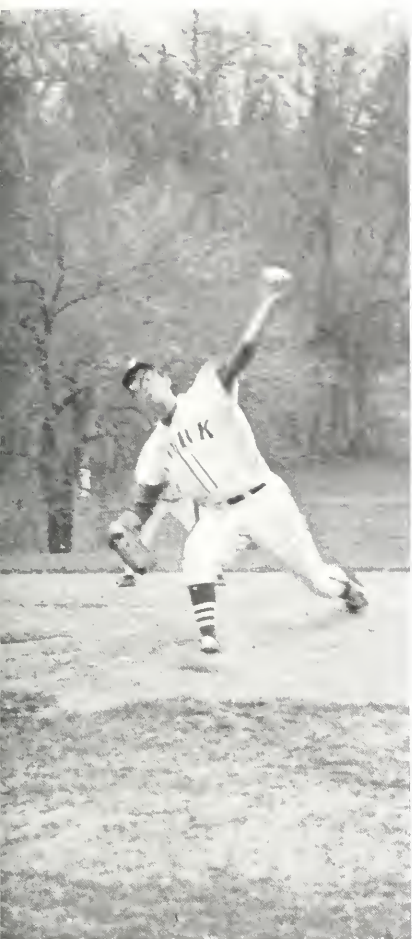

the team played several outstanding games in close losses: a 10-8 loss to a powerful millersville team; a 4-2 loss to perennial powerhouse george mason; and a 10 inning loss to elizabethtown, 15-11.

highlights of the season was an 8th inning comeback win over howard university's cia conference champs, and a one run win over mansfield state, defending champs of both the pennsylvania state college conference and district 19 of the naia. the trio of dave cochran, larry swartz, and greg ernst will be an excellent nucleus for next year's team.

this year marked the inaugural season for inter-collegiate track and field competition at york college. the spartan squad compiled a 2-4 dual meet record against established four year colleges.

the team will look forward to a better season next year with the return of all its members with the exception of senior sprinter sin orcutt. coach steiler feels that a fine nucleus exists for next year's track team with outstanding individuals such as john taylor and chuck richards (440), gary townsend (880 and mile), larry becker (880), bill fourhman (3 mile), john price (pole vault), gene fogle (shot and discus), dennis doerr (high jump), cliff karovilas (triple jump), and clair hess and ernie troinio (javelin).

this being the first season, all of the college records were established. also york field records were established. seven records are held by members of the york squad, with a number of other records being held by other colleges. these records will be the goal for our track team next season.

this year golf has been one of the most outstanding sports for the spartans. york college has had winning seasons in the past three years—last year they posted the best record for all sports—1971 was no exception, the team posted a 12-2 record this season, again the best record, the team was invited to compete in the naia district 19 championships in hershey, pa. the three teams york was to compete against forfeited allowing york to become the n.a.i.a. district champions. the teams that forfeited were bloomsburg state, george mason, and philadelphia college of pharmacy. york had beaten bloomsburg and george mason during the season. the team has qualified for the n.a.i.a. national championships to be held in illinois, june 6-8.

york had a strong team this year as shown in each individual's record. almost all members had a winning record, the spartans were led to victory under the fine leadership of player-coach george shorb. george posted a 9-4-1 record and had a fine 75.7 average, bob patton held a 80.9 average with an 11-3 record, and sophomore doug kovalesski—82.5 average with an 8-2 record. the other team members and their records: randy young—82.2 average and 9-4-1 record; tom loucks, 8-4-2 and an 84.1 average; pat reilly—a 3-5 record and an 84.9 average; and ken eshleman with a 5-5 record and an 85.7 average.

The school year passes quickly. For some, so quick that present time soon becomes the past.

Horizon 1971 is the story of the school year. It includes the people and particular events that made it what it was.

Unfortunately, this year's book got off to a very late start. Along with lack of organization, chances of having a yearbook looked dim.

Without the help of four dedicated staff members, Horizon 1971 would never be. Joe Zikmund, Dave Waltemeyer, Nat Conklin, and Vinnie Mecurio spent many hours working until late afternoon and evening to produce a yearbook.

Horizon 1971 is a permanent record of the school year. After looking through it, I hope each individual is able to recall specific memories important to him.
